Introduction

What is the Human Rights Council?

The Human Rights Council is the principal United Nations intergovernmental body responsible for human rights. It is composed of 47 Member States, which meets in at least three sessions per year in Geneva, Switzerland.

Its role includes strengthening the promotion and protection of human rights around the globe, and making recommendations to address violations of human rights, including gross and systematic violations.

The Office of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) is the secretariat for the Human Rights Council.
How does it work?

Elected for three-year terms, Member States of the Council discuss, take action and pass resolutions related to various items of a standing agenda:

1. Organizational and procedural matters
2. Annual report of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights and reports of the Office of the High Commissioner and the UN Secretary-General
3. Promotion and protection of all human rights: civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights, including the right to development
4. Human rights situations that require the Council’s attention
5. Human rights bodies and mechanisms
6. Universal Periodic Review
7. Human rights situation in Palestine and other occupied Arab territories
8. Follow-up and implementation of the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action
9. Racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related forms of intolerance, follow-up and implementation of the Durban Declaration and Programme of Action
10. Technical assistance and capacity-building

The Council considers the activities of its subsidiary human rights mandates and mechanisms, and may organize panel discussions and special events to enhance dialogue and mutual understanding on specific issues.

Outside its normal sessions, the Council may also hold special sessions related to country-specific or thematic issues.

In addition to Member States of the Council, Observers, which include non-Member States, inter-governmental organizations, national human rights institutions, and non-governmental organizations (NGOs), may participate in a session.

The Council’s sessions are broadcast live via webcast. Past sessions are archived.

How to participate in a session of the Council?

Only NGOs in consultative status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) can be accredited to participate in the Human Rights Council’s sessions as Observers.

As Observers, NGOs are able, amongst other things, to:

- Attend and observe all proceedings of the Council with the exception of the Council deliberations under the Complaints Procedure
- Submit written statements to the Human Rights Council
- Make oral interventions to the Human Rights Council
- Participate in debates, interactive dialogues, panel discussions and informal meetings
- Organize “parallel events” on issues relevant to the work of the Human Rights Council Accreditation

An NGO in consultative status with ECOSOC planning to attend a session of the Human Rights Council must send a letter of request for accreditation to the Secretariat. The letter should be sent well in advance of the relevant session and at least two weeks in advance if visa attestations are required.

The letter must contain the following elements:

► Submitted on the official letterhead of the organization;
► State the title and duration of the session the organization wishes to attend, e.g. “[Name of NGO], in consultative status with ECOSOC, wishes to send the following members to attend the Xth session of the Human Rights Council (dates of session)...”;
► List the name/s (FAMILY NAME, First name) of the person/s who will represent the organization at the session. Names of persons must appear exactly as they appear in their passports;
► List the name(s) of those members already in possession of a valid identity badge issued by UNOG Security and Safety Section, and who plan to attend the Council session, with an indication that the person(s) hold(s) an annual badge.
► The letter must be signed by the President, or Chief Executive Officer of the organization, or the organization’s Main Representative to the United Nations Office at Geneva if he/she is so authorized.

Please send the letter of request for accreditation by fax to the Human Rights Council Secretariat:

Prior to the session: +41-22-917-9011
During the session: +41-22-917-0494

► NGOs in need of ‘attestation of accreditation’ for Swiss visa application purposes, should state this explicitly in the letter of request for accreditation. Please consult Swiss consular officials in your country regarding visa application deadlines, apply accordingly and ensure documentation is in order. Please note that visa attestations are issued by the United Nations Office at Geneva. If a visa attestation is required, please also send a copy of the letter to the United Nations Office at Geneva NGO Liaison Officer to:

Fax: +41 22 917 05 83
E-mail: ungeneva.ngoliaison@unog.ch

Please Note: When there is a large number of NGOs seeking to participate in a session, the Secretariat may limit the number of accredited participants per NGO delegation with access to the plenary room. Please indicate in your accreditation request whether you seek access to the plenary, the public gallery (see also below) or a parallel event (see also below).
